A Classmate Remembers Joyce

As so often happens now, we become better friends with classmates through Facebook. This happened with Joyce and Susan Obral. Susan said that Joyce was often her cashier at the Avon Marks store. In addition, they saw each other every year at Susan's church's Christmas boutique. "Joyce was an excellent crocheter," says Susan. "My daughters each have scarves made by Joyce from yarn from a local alpaca farm-labeled with the individual alpacas name!"
